PETITIONING THE COURT

To modify the conditions of supervision as follows:

- 20 You shall reside in a residential reentry center (RRC) for a period of up to 180 days. Your participation in the programs offered by the RRC are limited to employment, education, treatment, and religious services at the direction of your supervising officer. You shall abide by the rules and requirements of the facility.

CAUSE

On March 8, 2012, this officer met with the offender upon his arrival at the residential reentry center (RRC) in Spokane, Washington, as a Bureau of Prisons (BOP) inmate. At that time, the offender agreed to sign a Waiver of Hearing to Modify Conditions of Supervised Release. Mr. Cain was advised that if he could not secure employment and obtain clean and sober housing, this officer would submit the RRC modification to the Court, prior to the commencement of his supervised release on July 3, 2012. Throughout the time the offender was at the RRC as a BOP inmate, this officer worked closely with the offender and his RRC case manager to assist with his job search efforts.

On June 15, 2012, this officer met with the offender and his RRC case manager. Mr. Cain is not employed. He understands the rationale behind this modification to place him at the RRC as a public law client. The offender acknowledges he still needs assistance from RRC staff in securing employment and saving money to live independently in the community.
